HAMLIN, JONES COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1936.

NUMBER 18.

Baptist Convention, District Seventeen Meeting With First Baptist Church, Hamlin March 5-6

We are very fortunate to have the privilege of entertaining the District Convention on Thursday and Friday, March 5-6. This will bring to our city and church perhaps five hundred of the leading citizens of this section of Texas. Not only will it do this, but we will have the privilege of hearing from time to time some of the best church leaders of the South.

The program which follows these words, will introduce you to these speakers. Space does not permit me to say a word about each individually, but you will want to hear everyone of them.

We are to furnish bed and breakfast to those remaining over night so we need the co-operation of the entire town in helping us entertain these guests. If you have a room that you can share for one night call the pastor or Mrs. W. F. Johnson and let them know. They will appreciate it.

We invite our friends from all our churches to attend these services and get a blessing from them.

The 17th District is composed of Jones County and eleven other Counties, near by. The following program is to be given:

J. E. BARNES AGE 96 DIED LAST WEEK

Perhaps one of the oldest persons in the Hamlin Country, R. E. (Dad) Barnes passed away on Tuesday, February 18, at 10:20 p. m.

Mr. Barnes was born in Missouri, on September 23, 1839, and therefore his age was 96 years, 4 months and 24 days.

The life of J. E. Barnes (perhaps we should say in this sketch of his life "Dad" Barnes, as everybody who knew him, would say) is a long story and very interesting. The past years he made his home here in Hamlin with his daughter, Mrs. John Bull. He came to McCaulley in 1916 and established a blacksmith shop, later lived at Royston and finally opened a shop in Hamlin. He prided himself on knowing how to work iron and especially how to shoe horses. He was of a "blacksmithing" family, his father and grandfather were masters of the iron trade.

Mr. Barnes came to Texas soon after the Civil War and located in Comanche County, near Dublin. He was married at Greenville, Texas in 1886 to Miss Cordelia Redner and to this union there were six children, four of whom are living, namely E. V. Barnes, Memphis, Texas; W. B. Barnes, Weatherby, New York; Mrs. J. M. Neal and Mrs. John Bull of Hamlin. All the children were present for the funeral except the New York man. There are eighteen grand children.

The deceased was a member of the Church of Christ and it was at this church in Hamlin the funeral was held on Thursday of last week, conducted by the pastor, Minister Woody Holden.

The body was in charge of the Barrow Undertakers and interment was in East Cemetery, Hamlin.

Further, we would like to add that the character of Mr. Barnes was unique in many ways. He must have had an unusually strong body—Irish to the core, and even in his latest days he would keep his ready wit and smile. He delighted in his work on locks, guns and special knives. He said the automobile put him on a hard bunk—So many cars—so few horses and mules—no shoeing. A man of his age had seen the widening victories of science. Ninety-seven years is a long time back—"Dad Barnes" will be remembered by the few who really got to know him—his spirit regained its youth and his eyes rekindled their young blue and sparkle—A quiet man and a good blacksmith is gone.

PLAINS HIGHWAY MEN VISITED HAMLIN FRIDAY

Years ago people from the states from Canada to Mexico longed for a continuous hard road across and into three nations. That dream is about to come true.

Last Friday one of the "pioneer dreamers", Judge J. V. Romigh, of North Platte, Nebraska, president of the Great Plains Highway, accompanied by a new vice president, W. B. La Master, Perryton, Texas, came "south" to inspect the road. They made their stop in Hamlin conferring with J. J. Waggoner, another "road dreamer"—and from their broad smile that "International Highway" which splits Hamlin wide open, No. 4 State, No. 84 Federal, is almost a reality.

Mr. Romigh says the highway is all weather now except 100 miles in Nebraska, 40 miles in Oklahoma, one-half of Ochiltree County, Texas, one-half of Collingsworth County, all of King and Stonewall, and just a little north of Hamlin. That means from Hamlin north, all of N. D., S. D., Kans., and Saskatchewan, Canada, are clear and hard. A lot of space from here to the Rio Grande is not yet hard surfaced.

Misses Ethel and Clonell Harris came last Friday to spend two weeks vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harris. Miss Ethel is employed in Dallas in the South Western Bell Telephone Co. And Miss Clonell has just completed a course in Beauty Culture in the Dallas School of Beauty Culture.

TOM TEAGUE CHOSEN PRES. OF C. OF C.

At a called meeting of the newly elected Directors, Feb. 20, 1936, Mr. Tom Teague was elected as the President to serve for the New Year 1936. It was also voted at this meeting that the President appoint the necessary committees for the Chamber of Commerce work for the year.

Mr. Teague announces the following Committees and the ones who are to serve.

Transportation Committee:—J. J. Waggoner, J. W. Ezell, Joe Culbertson and H. O. Cassle.

Membership and Finance:—Tate May, J. E. Moody, W. A. Cassle.

Publicity Committee:—Harold Bonner, Richard Lehman and Bowen Pope.

Entertainment Committee:—Joe Culbertson, R. H. McCurdy and B. Hassen.

Centennial or Exhibit Committee: Tate May, J. E. Moody, B. M. Brundage.

Civic Committee:—Ira A. Clements, Elsie Wienke and M. C. Wilson.

The officers, directors and all members of the local Chamber of Commerce are striving to put on a worthy program for this year and will appreciate at any time, worthwhile suggestions, and at any time any objects come up for attention that are covered by the above named committees these committee members will appreciate the co-operation of all.

By, W. E. Benson, Secretary.

MRS. SAM C. VAUGHAN

DIED THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Sam C. Vaughan, one of the pioneer women of Hamlin passed away after a long illness.

Funeral services will be held at

McCaulley Business Men Organize Luncheon Club

The Business Men of McCaulley met at the Methodist Church last week and after enjoying a big feed organized a "Business Men's Club."

Garland Davis was elected President of the Club and H. W. Madden was elected Secretary-Treasurer. The club is to have a luncheon regularly on the third Tuesday of each month.

The chief purpose of the Club is two-fold: FIRST, to promote a friendlier relationship between the business men of McCaulley; SECOND: To increase business. In order to realize this two-fold purpose, each Saturday will be recognized as a Trades Day and those who have produce, livestock, cars, or other property to trade or sell are asked to bring such property to town on that day.

George Darden was appointed general manager of the Trade Program. A Committee consisting of H. W. Madden, Garland Davis, and Luther Rector, was appointed to manage each Saturday program.

Those who were present at the organization evening were: S. N. Hardy, Levi McCollum, J. P. Hardisty, L. E. Rector, Louis Rector, W. J. Madden, H. W. Madden, Alph Hemphill, W. W. Faulkenberry, B. F. Short, J. R. Bateman, F. E. Hines, Spider Miers, W. C. Kean and Garland Davis.

County Clean-Up and Beautification

The Jones County Federation of Club appeals to the entire public to join in making our County clean as well as beautiful during the Texas Centennial year. Let us enter into the genuine spirit of the celebration next Monday, March 2, the one hundredth anniversary of the Declaration of Independence of Texas.

There will probably be no extensive organized efforts in a county-wide clean-up and beautification movement, but an appeal is made to every individual man and woman, boy and girl to join in the movement. Let us all work earnestly to free our homes, yards, and premises of unsightly rubbish. We can trim the native mesquites, and let the harmless wild flowers grow. We can plant drowth-resisting flowers; we can paint the mail-boxes or in some way make them more attractive.

A request is made that everyone refrain from leaving rubbish along the highways and public roads. Texas is soon to form in a great parade and pageant; her roads should be attractive from the Rio Grande to the Red River; from the Sabine to the City of El Paso.

The Jones C. Federation of Woman's Clubs,

A full sketch of the life of Mrs. Vaughan will be given next week.

Mrs. Robert Johnson, who has been in the Stamford Sanitarium for the past four weeks, for medical treatment, was able to return to her home Sunday. She is reported to be doing nicely.

MRS. W. W. SHIELDS

BURIED AT McCAULEY

The Herald learns that Mrs. W. W. Shields, who with her husband recently moved from their farm near McCaulley, passed away suddenly at her new home, on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Shields were teachers for a long time and recent years operated a fine fruit farm in Fisher County.

She is survived by her husband, but they had no children.

To Mr. Shields, the Herald Editor extends his deepest sympathy in his great loss. Many years ago we knew Mr. Shields as a fellow classmate. We know the years spent with his companion were Mr. Shield's greatest joy.

Mrs. Shields was a member of the Baptist Church.

Hard knocks make us enjoy easy kicks.

Miss Florine White returned Tuesday from Fort Worth where she has been visiting relatives for the past month.

R. S. DEAN, AGENT SINCLAIR PRODUCTS

For several weeks the Sinclair Products Truck and local agency has been operating under a new agent.

The Sinclair Agency in Hamlin has been under the agency of Milton Wilson, who recently sold to R. S. Dean.

In this week's Herald the regular Sinclair products ad is carrying the new signature.

Mr. Dean is officing at the Sinclair Service Station, across the street north of the Herald office. This station also has a new owner, in the person of R. E. Dobbins.

Dean has always followed farming and bookkeeping at gins. He is thoroughly experienced in the demands on the products of the oil company he represents here, and he is a hustler along with experience.

Milton Wilson is also a live wire and from the way he smiles he evidently has something good in view to take hold of—he will not reveal his plans.

ADV. COMPANY

WELL PLEASED

Hamlin Herald,
Hamlin, Texas.
Gentlemen:

Campbell-Ewald Company celebrated its twenty-fifth birthday on Saturday, February 1, and I want to take this opportunity personally to express my appreciation of the fine spirit of co-operation that has always marked our relations with your paper, and that has helped to no small degree in the successful development of our business.

We are, as you well know, firm believers in newspaper advertising. Other media are important, but the newspaper is the final vital link between the producer and the consumer that must be, in the very nature of things, an essential part of any well balanced advertising program.

It has been a great source of gratification to me all through my business experience to note the friendliness and courtesy that we have received invariably from publishers in the newspaper field, and it is because of this fact that I am impelled to write to you this expression of appreciation now that we have been doing business together for a quarter of a century or so.

You will be interested to know that our business for last year was the best we have had since 1931, and that I have every confidence of still sounder and better conditions in the coming year.

Sincerely,

H. T. EWALD, President.

Boring From Within

(From National Publisher)

If the freedom of the press is ever curtailed in this country the newspapers will have themselves to blame. The flight of the Lindberghs was due largely to the never-ending invasion of their privacy by camera men and reporters. The recent death of Rudyard Kipling was a reminder that he left his Vermont home to live in England in order to escape the annoyance of reporters who pestered him for interviews, and comment on international news and petty local affairs.

Publishers in the smaller cities and country towns have no conception of the growing resentment against the ruthless methods of some metropolitan papers, especially the picture-hunters.

Bribery, lying and stealing to secure a photograph of some one thrown suddenly into the limelight are everyday routine. The code of ethics hanging in the editorial room does not extend to the picture-chasers.

Significant indeed are the recommendations of the American Bar Association to keep the trial of criminal cases from degenerating into vaudeville shows. The clicking of cameras, the flashing of lights, the posing of defendants, judges, witnesses, attorneys and jurors for the best camera effects is rightly deplored. The association also condemns the growing practice of presenting in advance the evidence to be given by witnesses, statements of attorneys of what they expect to "prove"; bulletins from the defendant during the course of the trial; newspaper "polls" as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant and other methods of trying a case in the newspapers.

The Bruno Hauptman trial was cited as a shocking example of newspaper and news reel exploitations that detract from the dignity of a court and the serious business of a trial for murder.

The resolutions failed to condemn the publicity-seeking lawyers who would be debarred "for advertising" but who in many instances tip off the reporters the inside dope in exchange for the publicity they will get. The resolutions will not get anywhere because the lawyers do not come into court with clean hands—to borrow one of their favorite expressions—but the report of the committee gives emphasis to the growing resentment at the methods of yellow journalism that has no regard for anything but sensational reports and pictures. For them the more shocking they are the better.

Reputable newspapers and lawyers alike abhor these practices but to attempt to restrain them by legislation would be the first step in censorship of the press. Once started it would be gradually extended.

The real danger to the freedom of the press is not from political parties or public officials smarting under editorial criticism or exposure, but from the disregard of the right of privacy, the publishers' assumption of judicial functions in trying cases in the papers are turning a court into a vaudeville stage. Both the editorial and legal professors suffer by upsetting the course of judicial trials to satisfy the curiosity and morbid appetites of sensation-loving readers—but the newspapers have most to lose.

CONTINENTAL OIL
PROVES ITS FAITH
IN NEWSPAPER ADS

PONCA CITY, Okla., Feb. 25.—"During 1936 Continental Oil Company will spend nearly 75 per cent of its total consumer advertising appropriation for newspaper space," it was announced here today by Wesley I. Nunn, advertising manager.

The Hamlin Herald has been selected to carry Conoco advertising again in the Hamlin community this year, and that his company has again approved one of the largest sales promotion budgets in its history.

"Continental's faith in the dividend earning power of newspaper advertising is founded upon sales increases directly traceable to this medium," said Nunn. "Last year, for example, there was a marked improvement in Company earnings, despite excessive gasoline taxes and other adverse factors. Sales of Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil also reached an all-time high.

"Business is definitely on the upgrade. And we are confident that aggressive newspaper advertising, quality products and a high standard of service will make this the most outstanding year in our history."

AGAIN a big company expresses its faith in the small town paper as a sales medium. The above statements from the advertising manager of Continental Oil Co. will have a tendency to make the readers of the Herald "look twice" and reason every time one of the Conoco ads appear. Notice this week and also others.

CONOCO HOT ON TRAIL OF MOTOR
OIL BURGLARS

PONCA CITY, OKLA., Feb. 10.—Burglars who break into Continental Oil Company service station and bulk stations and carry away merchandise are writing themselves a one-way ticket to the penitentiary.

Recent activities of oil theft and market rings now operating in southwestern states have caused Continental to declare war on this type of criminal.

By employing specially trained investigators and co-operating closely with local sheriffs, Conoco has already succeeded in apprehending and securing the conviction of a number of bulk station burglars, many of them having previous criminal records.

Four year terms in the Oklahoma penitentiary at McAlester were recently given two men convicted of entering a Conoco warehouse at Sulphur, Oklahoma, and stealing 25 cases of Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. Both were trailed through several counties before they were apprehended. One of the criminals was on parole from a California prison.

To be proud of your faults is to commend a jackass.

E. C. WALDROP FOR COMMISSIONER

I take this method of announcing my candidacy for the office of Commissioner of Precinct 2, Fisher County.

In so doing I wish to state that I will run my race strictly on my own merits and record, since I have been in Fisher county.

I have resided in this Precinct for the past 18 years. I have done road work for Mr. Madden almost steady for the past 12 years, and had some experience under the Commissioner before him. I also was in the garage business in McCaulley several years from 1922 to 1925 and again in 1932, but am not connected with the business now in any way. I think I realize the responsibility and work to be done in this office and feel that I am fully qualified to fill this important place.

I will make every effort to see every voter before the Primary, but I would be glad for any who does not know me inquire in my home community about me.

I will appreciate your consideration of my candidacy, and want your vote and influence in the Democratic Primary of July 25, 1936.

Respectfully,

E. C. WALDROP.

In plain words it's old-fashioned to have winter starting troubles. (You needn't admit anything in company—because lots of people don't know there is hard starting any more.) But get a neighbor off to one side. Chances are he's an old regular on Winter Blend Conoco Bronze, or he is one of the thousands and thousands who changed to it these recent cold months. See if he doesn't say almost these words: "You always start up on Conoco Bronze; you start, that's all. No weather yet, around here, seems to make any difference. Maybe your car isn't new, but this stuff starts. You or I don't know how any gasoline is made, no matter what we're told. But when you don't have to grind the starter and pray for your battery, nor keep on choking and choking, then you know you've got what you want. And they don't have to tell you any more about Conoco Bronze than the way it starts, as long as you know it does." Continental Oil Company, Established 1875

WEEKLY PAPER A

HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY

Members of the Wisconsin Press Association, the first press association in the United States, read with pleasure recently a statement by Governor Phil LaFollette on the value and importance of the weekly newspaper. The views were sent to Hugh C. Gresham, publisher of the Cheney (Kan.) Sentinel, who is collecting similar statements from governors from all states.

Speaking of his own state he says: "More than 1,500,000 (out of 3,000,000) live in our small towns and on our farms," said Governor LaFollette. "The weekly newspaper is the only press devoting itself exclusively to the service of this rural population. THAT IS WHY IT HAS BECOME ALMOST A HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY OF EVERY FARM FAMILY."

"By telling, week after week, the intimate, personal, and human story of the men, women, and children of our farms and small towns, the weekly newspaper creates and fosters a splendid community-consciousness. Thus it provides the foundation for community co-operation and for the mutual understanding among individuals and groups so vital for collective and progressive effort."

Wisconsin's first newspaper was founded 102 years ago, and the Wisconsin Press Association was formed five years later.

Celebrations Will Bring Vast Crowds Into State!

If early indications are a criterion, a goodly portion of the population of the United States will be traveling toward Texas during 1936, Centennial Year. Since announcement of Centennial Year, state-wide inquiries have been coming in by the thousands. Statisticians now estimate more than 12,000,000 people will attend the Centennial Year and it is reasonable to expect more than half a million to visit Texas.

Texas is on parade! Millions of citizens from other states have accepted our invitation to see and know Texas! They'll be traveling through every part of the state!

The impressions our guests take home with them will depend upon individual Texans! Clean premises! Growing lawns! Colorful flowers and landscaping! New paint! All these efforts by individual citizens will make the impressions favorable to your town and to Texas!

Join in this state-wide crusade for a cleaner, more beautiful Texas! Let's every one of us do our part!

PHILOSOPHY OF EMPIRE BUILDING

A CENTENNIAL OF EXTRAORDINARY ACCOMPLISHMENT

The first white man, a Spaniard, arrived in Texas in 1519, but not until 1835, when Texas declared its independence from Spain, did the development of the region begin its real stride.

In the 100 years since, Texas has become one of the richest, most productive and also one of the most promising regions in all the world.

In 1850 the population of the state was half a million. In 1928 it was about 5,500,000. Its population increases about 100,000 a year.

In area and in production, Texas so far outranks its fellows as to be a thing apart, a Mecca for the ambitious, and the pride of this nation.

1936 is the Centennial year in Texas, and the prosperous city of Dallas will complete the state's many celebrations by opening a $15,000,000 Texas Centennial Exposition on June 6, to continue open 175 days, until November 29.

In advance of the Dallas Exposition, all Texas will celebrate Centennial Year, particularly Texas' historic shrines—San Antonio, Goliad, Houston, Nacogdoches, Gonzales and Huntsville.

In that period Dallas expects to entertain 10,000,000 visitors.

For the purpose, some twenty-four buildings have been or are being erected on the exposition site in State Fair park. These are in addition to such structures as are being erected to house private exhibits.

Dallas has planned its Exposition in a large way to celebrate a development which, in many respects, stands unique in the history of the world.

In Texas, intelligence and enterprise are so sure of successful accomplishment that success is usually discounted in advance.

Hence the full confidence with which Dallas and Texas anticipate their Centennial exposition this summer and fall.

Governor Allred's Proclamation!

To early Americans, the word "Tejas" meant friendship. Today the word "Texas" still means friendship, and more. It means opportunity, a land of fabulous natural resources, of rolling ranges, of loamy black farmlands, of unsurpassed climate, and—BEAUTY.

This year, Centennial Year, Texas is entertaining millions of visitors from every part of America. They're coming to see the Texas they've heard and read about. They'll travel every part of our state. The favorable impression Texas and Texans make will result in a priceless asset for the Lone Star State.

Let each of us do everything possible to see that our visitors not only remember Texas as an empire of friendly people but as a land of BEAUTY, as well. This can best be accomplished by each citizen seeing that his or her premises is free from unsightly rubbish, made attractive with flowers or green lawns. In brief, let us all cooperate to the end that visitors will be impressed with the cleanliness and beauty of Texas as well as with our far-famed reputation for friendship.

100 Cities Join Centennial
Year Parade In Texas

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 18.—The Texas Centennial, with celebrations of varied nature planned in more than 100 cities, has developed into the greatest state-wide observance in the nation's history.

The celebrations not only reflect the glorious history of the state but they also serve to focus world wide attention on the agricultural, mineral, industrial, and recreational resources of the Lone Star State.

Texas is on parade in 1936 with scores of historical celebrations,

Centennial pageants, harvest festivals, fairs and stock shows, jubilees and fiestas. Dallas with its great Central exposition will entertain millions of visitors and other exhibitions will be staged in Fort Worth and Austin.

Historical observances center in San Antonio and Houston with interesting events also planned at Washington-on-the-Brazos, and throughout Texas this year, wherever celebrations, picnics, rodeos, or any form of general crowds — they will be in the name of "Centennial Year."

Beware The Cough
From a common cold
That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Peppermint, but it also contains a powerful effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results. Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Milestones of American Genius

Memorial to the cotton gin inventor.

ELI WHITNEY

THE mechanical and engineering genius which has made America the world's foremost industrial nation is symbolized by the figure of one of our first and most significant inventors, Eli Whitney. Not only his technical talents, but the elements of ambition and pertinacity in his character, place him in the roster of great Americans whose memory is a perpetual source of inspiration.

Eli Whitney was 24 years old before he succeeded in entering Yale for the education which he craved as a basis for his inventive urge. Poverty and the opposition of his parents had prevented him before that. He had been born at Westboro, Mass., on December 8, 1765, and his mechanical ingenuity was evident from childhood. His perseverance against immense odds enabled him to turn that ingenuity to account. By saving for years out of small earnings from odd jobs he accumulated the wherewithal for a belated education.

Chance led him to Savannah after completing the college course. There he observed the tedious manual method of cleaning raw cotton. He heard of the decision of many of the foremost planters to abandon cotton growing as unprofitable. The problem fired his imagination.

(Copyrighted by Memorial Extension Commission.)

Within a year Eli Whitney produced the first model of his cotton gin, which accomplished in an hour what it had taken many days to do by hand. Overnight almost the cotton industry became a leading source of American wealth and power, and King Cotton sat enthroned on Eli Whitney's cotton gin. Two years before the epoch-making invention, American cotton exports were a scant 20,000 pounds. Twenty-five years later they had mounted to 270,000, 000—and this growth was due primarily to the Yankee grit and American daring of the self-made inventor.

The cotton gin brought its inventor but little personal financial return. It was not until some years later, when his improvements in firearms made him more affluent, that he was able to taste the comfortable existence that his genius merited.

Eli Whitney died on January 8, 1825, at New Haven, Conn. The North, which was his home, and the South, which he had so vastly enriched, joined in mourning the nation's loss. The dignified sarcophagus memorial which marks his last resting place in a New Haven cemetery—shown in the sketch above—expresses aptly the nobility of his character and the solid worth of a pioneer industrial inventor.

Importance of Cottonseed Concerns Welfare of South

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 18.—“The future of the cotton south is threatened again by a revival of national and state legislation that discriminates against the products of the cotton farmer,” says J. R. McCrary, prominent plantation owner, President of The Texas Co-operative Council and the Brazos Valley Cotton Cooperative Association, Director and Member of Executive Committee of American Cotton Co-operative Association, and member of Texas Cotton Committee, in an interview recently.

“Certain Washington lobbyists, posing as representatives of the dairy industry, have begun a move against cottonseed oil as a food product, and unless cotton growers unite to defend this product of theirs against unjust and discriminatory legislation, these lobbyists will succeed in having it classified as an insignificant by-product of Southern Farms and will have it driven out of all important food markets,” said McCrary.

“Cottonseed is the South's second most important money crop. It has an annual value of $150,000,000 if the full food value of cottonseed oil is utilized. Since cottonseed oil represents 60 per cent of the value of cottonseed, it is important to every cotton grower to see that it goes into the best food products. They must rise up in indignation when any group tries to drive it out of the food markets. We have lost some of our foreign markets for lint cotton, we cannot afford to lose markets for other products. Surely cotton producers will not sit idly by and see the domestic market for cottonseed oil destroyed by a selfish group in the alleged interest of another agricultural commodity. Certainly the cotton farmer is entitled to as much consideration as any other type of farmer.

“Cottonseed oil, when used in the manufacture of any food product, has demonstrated its desirability as an excellent vegetable oil of the very highest food value. Cottonseed oil shortening, margarine and salad oils have gained a fine and enviable reputation in the food markets of the world. The industries manufacturing these products furnish a market for nearly all our cottonseed oil. If legislation calculated to destroy any of these industries is passed it will have the effect of immediately destroying part of our market for cottonseed oil and, if carried far enough, will destroy the entire market.

“A bill has been introduced in the Federal Congress by Congressman Gerald J. Boileau, of Wisconsin, known as H. R. 9865 taxing all margarine sold in this country 5c per pound,” continued McCrary. “This law is sponsored by selfish interests who seek by this un-American legislation to do one of two things: Put the margarine industry out of business so as to eliminate its competition in the table spread field, or assess a penalty of 5c per pound on every consumer who exercises his right as a free born American citizen to buy margarine instead of butter. Cotton growers have learned the value of markets for their products. They must resist any move calculated to destroy their markets or penalize any consumer who uses the things which they produce. With the curtailment of our cotton crop we must sell our cottonseed for the highest possible price. Any group which undertakes to prevent us from doing so will find that we know how to defend our rights.

“Cottonseed oil margarine is gaining in popularity every day because of its excellence. The American housewife is finding it very helpful in providing a wholesome, healthful, balanced diet for her family, adjusted to a reduced income. The margarine industry offers a potential outlet for two hundred fifty million to four hundred million pounds of cottonseed oil a year. We must not let any group destroy this market, which we need so badly, for this product. If we do so their next move will be against cottonseed oil shortening and if both of these outlets are taxed out of business, it will cost the cotton growers of the South untold millions of dollars annually.

Cotton growers of the South claim a right as American citizens to free unpenalized markets for all the products of their farms.” Mr. McCrary concluded: “The markets of the South are wide open to American farmers. It will be very regrettable if any agricultural group is induced to approve the proposed legislation. The cotton growers are not as well organized as some other agricultural groups; they maintain no powerful lobby, but they are not asleep and will unite in applying the most effective means possible against any State or National legislation that in any way penalizes or discriminates against their products.”

THE CHERRY CLIMAX COMES IN FEBRUARY

CHERRIES are eaten all year round in this country, including February, but the peak of their consumption probably comes in this famous month not only because it is the month of George Washington's birthday and we are reminded of the story of his truthfulness about the cherry tree, but because “red” is a pretty color to put in party foods for St. Valentine's Day and Lincoln's birthday. A National Cherry Week is held annually, from February fifteenth to February twenty-second, this year, at a time when housewives are interested, too, in putting some fruit into the diet to offset the effects of the necessarily heavier winter foods.

A Thrift Opportunity

With the current sales of canned cherries it is a good time for the thrifty housewife to stock up on a variety of them. There are two principal types of canned cherries—sweet and sour. There are both black and white sweet cherries. Sour cherries are red. The most abundant black sweet cherries are the Bing and Windsor, and the most famous white ones are the Royal Annes. Sour cherries are usually either Richmond or Montmorency. Sweet cherries are canned unpitted. Sour cherries are always canned with the pits removed.

This is a good season, too, to check up on your cherry recipes, and make sure they include some of the best ways of serving these fruits. The sweet cherries are delicious and decorative for use in salads, and the sour are grand for making cherry puddings and also for serving with meats when their tart flavor is needed.

Here are two new cherry

recipes which you will be glad to add to your repertoire:

Baked Cherry Pudding: Cream together four tablespoons butter and one cup sugar, add three-fourths cup of milk alternately with the following sifted dry ingredients: one and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons of baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Pour into a buttered baking dish. Meanwhile boil together for five minutes the contents of one No. 2 can of pitted red cherries, one-half cup sugar and two teaspoons grated orange rind. Pour this on top of the batter, and bake for about thirty minutes in a medium oven—350 degrees. The dough will rise to the top, the cherries and syrup sink to the bottom forming a sort of sauce. Turn out upside down and serve warm with plenty of cream. This serves eight persons.

Cherry Queen of Puddings: Pour two cups of hot milk over one cup of dry bread crumbs which are fairly fine. Add one-half cup of sugar and two tablespoons butter. Let soak for five minutes. Then add the lightly-beaten yolks of three eggs, and pour into a buttered pudding dish. Bake in a slow oven—275 to 300 degrees—for from forty to fifty minutes, or until a knife, inserted, comes out clean. Meanwhile cook the contents of one No. 2 can of pitted red cherries with three-fourths cup of sugar until the syrup is thick, then cool slightly. When the pudding is done, spread this cherry mixture on top, cover with a meringue made of three egg whites and six tablespoons of sugar. Return to the oven for about fifteen minutes or until the meringue is firm and a delicate brown. Serve cold. This serves eight persons.

4-H CLUB GIRLS PLAN GARDENS

One hundred and fifty-three 4-H club girls took part in the garden planning demonstration which has been given in the 10 4-H clubs in Jones County during February. Each girl is responsible for raising enough other vegetables for her family. This group of vegetables includes: Turnips, beets, radishes, onions, rutabagas, okra, egg plant, cushaw, white squash, cucumbers, shelled beans, shelled peas and garlic.

The 4-H club girls have as other goals for 1936: To can 5 containers for each member of the family and exhibit at the garden achievement program and at the exhibit next fall, 1 quart canned beets, 1 qt. shelled peas, 2 yards dried okra, or one gallon of cured onions.

TILE IS LAID TOO DEEP

“I am convinced that 14 inches is too deep for laying tile for sub-irrigation,” said Mrs. F. W. Poe, Neinda H. Dem. Club.

“I know it will be a big job but it would pay to dig this up and relay it 8 or 10 inches deep. With tile this deep it will not take so long to water nor will it take so much water,” said Mrs. Poe.

PAYS TO USE GOOD TICKING IN MAKING MATTRESSES

“Since there is so much beating required in making a good mattress we know we must have a good standard tick either 6 or 8 ounce, if we are going to have a finished mattress that will be strong and durable,” said a member of the Goodman H. Dem. Club.

“There is also danger of the nose and throat becoming irritated where an inexpensive tick is used and the sizing is beaten out and inhaled,” said another club member.

LOY FRY BUILDING

If there is anything that sounds good in anybody's old town it is the bang bang and saw saw of the carpenter's tools in a building structure. The hammer is sounding up on Hope avenue these days as a force of carpenters are remodeling the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Fry. When it is all finished this place will be one of the good houses in Hamlin. The new parts of the Fry home include two new bed rooms, a new kitchen and breakfast nook, connecting halls, closets and a new bath room—then there's the new dress-up of fresh bright paints and a dozen other things accompanying a big remodeling job.

While on the building subject we think there is nothing speaking so strong for the fact of “recovery” than the movement to improve buildings.

Indications are that 1936 will be a building year to exceed all the years combined since 1929—not counting necessary rebuildings caused by fires.

Hamlin needs three car loads of paint on the walls of its houses and other wood surfaces.

In a few months the flow of travel will be greater than ever—many people will be on the lookout for new places to move—the better Hamlin looks the more likely Hamlin will gain population.

NOTICE TO FARMERS

In the next two months we will be grading cotton seed in the Carlton, Neinda, McCaulley and Swedonia communities. Wait for us. If you have seed to be graded please drop a card, stating how many bushels.

METHODIST CHURCH

THE AMERICAN INDIANS
AND THEIR LEGENDS

Rev. A. E. Butterfield, a pioneer religious worker with the Comanche and Kiawa Indians, forty years ago, will be at the Methodist Church Sunday, 7:30 P. M. He will give the Indian lore, legends and customs. Also exhibit some of the curios that he obtained from the Indian chiefs and others. He has a bbw more than fifty years old and a scabbard of more than one hundred years old made by a prominent Indian squaw. Hear him, get his book and know the American Indians. Rev. Butterfield is well known by a number of Hamlin people since his beginning in the ministry. They will greatly enjoy his visit to our community and we will enjoy his stories sparkling with wit and exciting experiences.

We were delighted to have Bro. C. G. Green back in the services last Sunday. Others who have been out because of sickness are improving and will doubtless be with us again soon. The nice weather is bringing others out, so we are hoping to be back to normal Sunday. Our revival will be beginning March 22nd, and we will need every person in his place each Sunday to be ready for service when the revival starts.

"Through our own natural endowments, God has often answered our prayers before we asked them." "Time is God given, do not waste it just seeking thrills."

H. A. LONGINO, Pastor.

WORKER'S CLASS REPORT

February has been filled with delightful activities for the Worker's Class of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Simpson started these activities when she delightfully entertained the members of the class and invited guests with a Valentine party at her home Feb. 14. Tables were arranged for twenty-four people to play "Progressive Hearts." Some other amusing games were also played. At the conclusion of the party the hostess served a pretty refreshment plate of pink and white brick cream, with pink and white iced hearts of cake to twelve couples.

Class Meeting:

The Worker's Class met with Kathryn Adkins in the home of Mrs. W. L. Boyd in their regular business and social meeting. At the conclusion of some interesting games directed by Ruby Thompson, the hostess passed refreshments to:

Ruby Dean, Irene Thompson, Ethel Tindal, Ruby White, Bonita Duckworth, Ruby Thompson, Elva Greenway and Viva Milstead.

—REPORTER.

Homer and J. D. Raney and Leslie Tindal made a business trip to Wichita Falls Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Young have moved to the Bob Smith farm near Rotan.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Hassen and children, of Ranger, were here Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. B. Hassen and family.

Miss Annie Laurie Johnson, who is teaching Spanish in the High School of Fort Stockton, spent Saturday and Sunday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Johnson.

WHOSE PIG?

Anyone who has lost a pig, about weaning age, call at my place and describe it and you can have it by paying for this ad.—G. D. RANEY.

NEWS FROM HERE AND THERE

Three accidents occurred at Plasterco last week. Mr. Voshel Ewing was seriously injured while working in the Plasterco Mill. Mr. C. R. Williams was injured while playing basket ball. Both are in sanitariums. Mr. M. D. Brown, let his tractor go wild and was in the sanitarium 24 hours with a broken arm.

Miss Nadine Bingham, of Carlton, spent Sunday with Miss Grace Johnson, of Neinda.

The sermon by Bro. Hubbard at Neinda Baptist Church was enjoyed by all Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Finis Donally, of Clyde, visited relatives near Plasterco Sunday.

Miss Margaret Turner, of Neinda, was seen "stepping out" with a boy friend from Abilene.

Those visiting Mr. I. N. and M. D. Brown during the week-end were: Mr. and Mrs. Neely Brown of Lawton, Okla., Mrs. Della Jones and children of McCauley, Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Brown of Plasterco, Miss Fern Hedrick of Electra, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Carson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arza Brown and son, of Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Green and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Husley of Swedonia, Mrs. Knight and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brown of Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith of Sweetwater.

Mr. Paul Fisher has returned from De Leon, where he visited relatives the past week.

We are sorry to hear that three of the Dennis children, Florene, Glynn, and Hollis have the scarlet fever.

Miss Lorane (Jackie) Reynolds, of McCauley, received $25.00 at the Ferguson Theatre last week. We wouldn't be surprised if her best boy friend (?) isn't expecting her to buy a few show tickets.

SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

The Senior Class has organized, under the directorship of Miss Thompson, a most interesting and beneficial dramatic club. The club meets every Wednesday at 3:45 p. m. The following are members: Gladys Harris, Lucile Newsom, C. J. Adkins, Marvin Tinsley, John Fate Beavers, Lesley Shelbourn, James Whitaker, Analeen Murphee, Betty Merle Routh, Mary Beth Moody, Ann Ferguson, Betty Cluney, Leota Bailey, L. B. Williams, Doris Steed, Farrow Burns, Willie Doby and Estaline Richardson. C. J. Adkins is club president and a very good one he is. Betty Merle Routh is the reporter. There are two groups: The Marvin Tinsley Group and the Doris Steed Group. Each group is to give a short play. They will also entertain the Senior Class at the next party with stunts.

The club members are studying stage terms, uses of gesture, distance and characterization. They have lots of fun in addition to their work.

Last week their main topic was characterization and the members displayed themselves as negroes, hill-billies, cowboys, sophisticated ladies, old men, etc. The fun came when Leslie Shelburne, playing the tiny boy, related to his mother, Miss Thompson, the incident of getting a whipping unjustly in school. Also L. B. Williams, playing himself, asked Miss Thompson for a date to the Senior-Junior banquet. Willie Doby even went so far as to propose to the director. All club members decided that Willie didn't need any practice to do that.

The name of the Senior play will be announced soon. It is going to be one of the best plays ever staged in Hamlin. The cast will be chosen from the dramatic club.

SOSHEL EWING HURT BADLY AT MILL

A terrible accident happened to Soshel Ewing, a laborer at the Texas Cement Plaster Mills on Friday of last week when he got caught in a conveyor belt.

Ewing, age 23 years and single, had worked at the mills and knew all the signals, but as men will, took a chance and lost.

The belt caught him when he tried to clear it while moving. He suffered a broken shoulder, an arm broken in two places, chest injury, a broken nose, face cut and a leg gashed.

He was rushed to the Stamford Sanitarium and despite all those breaks and cuts he is reported doing fine.
